Our success stories

Enhancing productivity with precision

Prevented over 80% of wrong supplier codes in its first iteration, enabling a global automobile company to optimize its production with AI and ML-led solutions.

Empowering researchers to excel

We empowered a large public research university in California to build AI/ML-driven solutions for managing technical data.
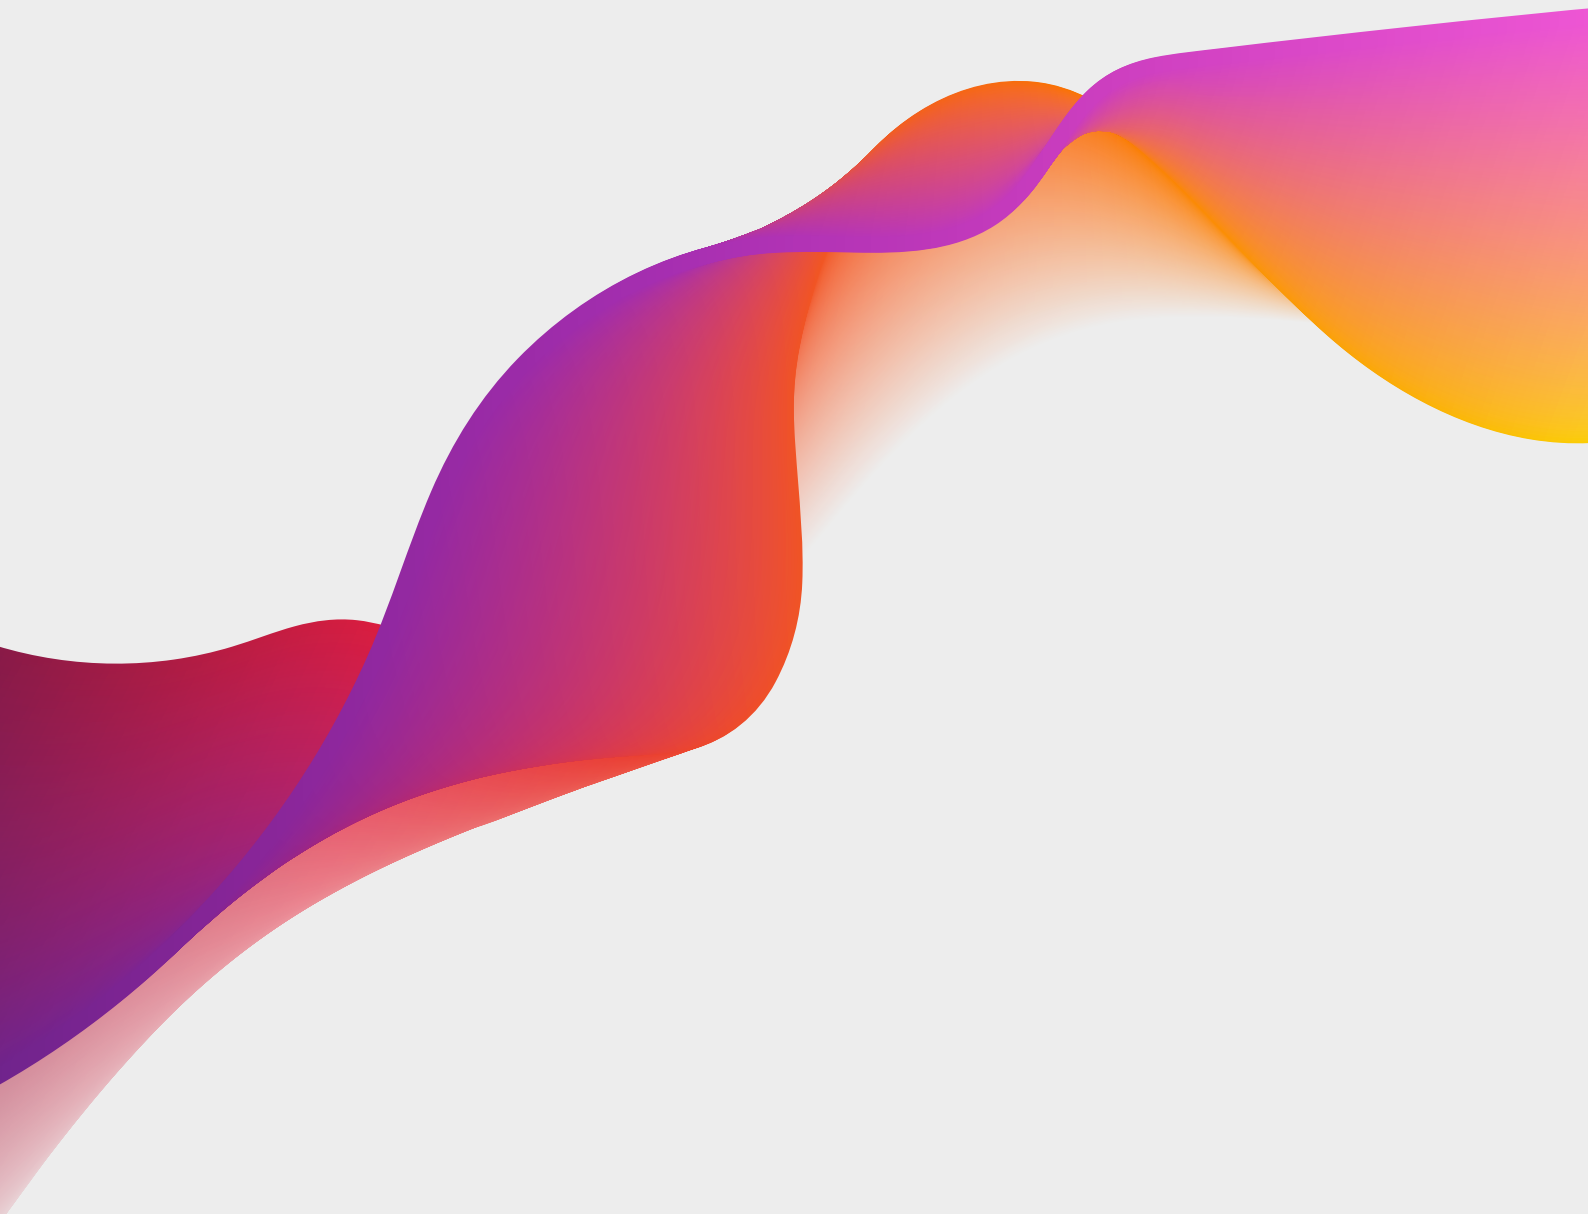

Reimagining interactive training

Enhanced the interactive training modules with a VR-based 360° solution for a multinational mass media and entertainment conglomerate.

Enabling a transformative FNOL experience

We enabled a 70% reduction in the turn-around time for auto claims, helping the insurer reimagine claims intake with an AI-based FNOL solution.

HTCNXT

HTCNXT is an Enterprise AI solutions division reimagining customer experience and outcomes. We combine disruptive technologies, deep domain expertise, and our built-to-purpose platform to accelerate AI-led transformations for enterprises.
